Most people are afraid of sharks because they are meat eaters, but they usually do not know very much about them. Sharks are 100 million years old. They lived at the same time as dinosaurs. Sharks are skilful hunters of the sea. They live in every ocean in the world, but most sharks preferably live in warm waters. They clean the ocean because they eat sick fish and animals. They have four to six sets of teeth in their jaws, so they can be dangerous. They don't have ears, but they can feel sounds and movements in the water. Sounds and movements make the water vibrate or shake. Sharks can feel these, and they help the sharks to find food. Sharks use their large eyes to find food, too. Many sharks see best in little light. They often hunt for food at dawn, in the evening or in the middle of the night.
